

Champlain Valley National Heritage Partnership

2008 Implementation Grant

Queen City Radio Hour

Project Summary

A 2008 Champlain Valley National Heritage Partnership Implementation Grant supported the production of the "Queen City Radio Hour" on July 2, 2009.

As part of the Lake Champlain Quadricentennial celebrations in Burlington, Vermont, the radio variety show featured Tom Bodett as the host. Several skits were featured, including a tall-tale featuring Samuel de Champlain. The program included music from The Horse Flies, Anais Mitchell, and Quebec's Lost Fingers
