Wet and Wild Bicycle Loop

Route Description

This leisurely day long ride takes in two of the most remote paved roads in the Adirondacks in two townships – Moriah and North Hudson. Along with dozens of ponds and wetlands, you'll cross the headwaters of the Schroon River, Mill Brook, McKenzie Brook and Black Brook. Once up the hill and out of Moriah Corners services are left behind. Grades become gentle as the route winds through open marshlands and woods with many opportunities for swimming, hiking, camping, and bird and wildlife watching. Once through the former mining district of Witherbee, with its unique examples of worker housing, the road drops through upland farms, and passes two large cemeteries before the final descent to Port Henry.
